
Subject: Re: LSAF 2012 thoughts from afar
Posted by DRCope on Fri, 15 Jun 2012 00:13:24 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Gentlemen!

I'm still alive and kicking on the East Coast. The last trip to Dallas killed my poor Volvo 240 wagon with a mere 270,000 miles. A mere baby!

I'm up to doing nine shows a year somehow, and the NY Show came the week before the Lone Star show. I love you guys, love the show, but damnation, it's a long way to go and ship gear and all for a show that's, let's face it, 1.5 days long. I scarcely recover from loading in and setting up before it's time to pack up, load out and go.

You'll never believe it, but I was clearing out part of my disaster area - - - office and came across my pair of 2123J's. (I still have the big-ass cabs that housed them and the 15" TADs with TAD 2001's in wood horns up top.)

I started thinking, hmmm, what fabulous thing can I do with these babies? Whaddya think?
