Hi Everyone, The first production (assembled only at this present time - but kits are coming) KT120 Mono Blocks have been delivered to customers. They love them. IMHO these are serious performers (I'm prejudiced though). The amps can deliver clean 50 watt square waves while I really only rate them at 45 WRMS. Distortion at one watt (any frequency) rivals preamps at 0.06%. They don't get to 1% until 25 WRMS. Extremely quiet and wide band. Ain't cheap though figure - $1995 assembled each. Kits of course will be much less.
