Hi Wayne, thanks for the kind remarks. It still needs to be sanded and then finished. I agree that it will probably come out in gloss black. A possibility I was pondering was to have a gloss whit top and black sides or just the reverse. I believe I will start with all black and see how it looks though. The nice thing with diy is you can change the color later if you want.

The big problem now is where to put all the turntables. Three in the set up at all times may be getting a bit excessive. There is still one more in the shed (Phillips GA 212 that is in excellent shape as well).
