As a favorite personage one said the only substitute for cubic inches is more cubic inches. I always wanted a 427 Cobra. Rode in one once....scared the out of me. The owner demonstrated that it could break traction at 100 in 4th. Meanwhile, I'm grabbing the dashboard and hoping not to stain my shorts. I do however miss my 1969 AMC Hurst "Bid Bad Orange" Javelin SST. It only had the 343 cid, but was factory prepared. 12s in quarter at about 115. Really fun to tear up the local folks here with Camaros and such. Give them a few car lengths and then fly by.
