Subject: Computer Audio
Posted by Rockhaven on Thu, 09 Aug 2012 04:16:25 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I have been having quite a hard time getting my sound to work like it should. Whenever I watch online youtube or online videos, sounds like it is skipping or is fragmented. It doesn't do this for all online streaming videos, and it plays spotify music ok. I am trying to figure if this is a software or hardware problem. Does anyone have any experience with this problem? I have a Windows XP operating system.