Hi, Cute, we had a cat just like that (died after 16 years). Now there are 3 all black ones. (don't ask how one turned into three) I agree on the size issue of Clarity caps. I use various brands of caps in my projects and this becomes an issue. I really like Jantzen Silver Z caps, but they get huge as well. I was just looking into Clarity ESA ones for coupling in some projects but have not pursued it yet. The others in the line up will push the costs up too much for a modest diy project.
