I just got off the phone with my local JBL service center and they're asking $190 for the recone. Considering I bought the woofer for $110, (edited, used to say "brand new"), from a member at another forum who has one more left, I think I'll just buy another driver. Dang!

EDIT: Edited the part where I said it was brand new. It was not, I was mistaken. They were listed as in "good used condition".
