A bank in Kansas contacted me about four 12Pi hornsubs they want to sell. They took possession of the inventory of a prosound company that defaulted on their financing, and so they contacted me and asked me to help them sell the basshorns. I've checked them out and they're in very good shape.

The bank is asking $1250 each, but aren't willing to split them. It's an all-or-nothing sale, $5000 for all four. In my opinion, that's an excellent deal because it's less than what it costs me to build them. And these are horns we built, with CNC cut panels, not a DIY build or customer-assembled flat-pack kit. Contact me to make an offer or for more details.
