Wayne,

I have the mains aggressively toed-in per your guidelines. It sounds great. Do you have any recommendations for the center? It is the only speaker that is fully on-axis from the MLP. Should I try to tilt it up? Do you ever recommend modifying crossover for the center channel speakers? I ran a pair of the 4Pis in a phantom center configuration until very recently and I am afraid I liked it better than what I am getting now with the left/front/center setup.

Also, how wide do you recommend setting up the mains?

thank you
