It's a good ribbon, as ribbons go. For speakers that are designed with no particular directivity in mind, they're very nice. But they aren't for me.

I considered ribbons for my smallest speakers at one time. But I would have never used them for the ones that have waveguides in them. I love the sound of ribbons, and I always have. But they're no match for a good waveguide with compression driver.

CD/Waveguide vs Ribbon Tweeters
