Yes - I've been veneering my cabinets this week- two panels per night with a homemade press setup involving plywood plates, 2x reinforcements, a gallon of wood glue, and clamps and straps. I also received packages from Sonicraft (where Alpha Core ribbon inductors were on sale) and Parts Express for the B^C drivers and large caps. I hope to get the veneer finished this weekend, but I think final assembly will go into next week or week after depending on other things. Getting excited! I'll try to put more pics up on the forum sometime.
