For this winter, I'm looking to put together an SS amp of about 100W per channel. Kits from Randy Sloan and Rod Elliot certainly fit the bill and have received quite a bit of positive feedback from the DIY community. Marchand has some very interesting kits and modules, but there doesn't seem to be any reviews at all of his amps. I have no doubt that his crossovers are top-notch, but anybody ever heard the amps?thanks,Gar.
