Hi again Wayne. This is probably a common question.

I have been considering the Pi 4. However, the price and availability of JBL2226 woofers in Canada is giving me second thoughts.

I'm wondering if the Pi3 would be a better fit. I can get the 4012 woofers in Canada at a reasonable cost, so parts wise it would be easier and less expensive. My room is about 12.5 x 20 so I don't really need the extra output of the 4. The sensitivity is lower but the response looks like it extends a little further in the bass. Are there any big differences in the 2 models that I'm not seeing? Could you send me the 3Pi plans so I can take a closer look.

Thanks again
Brian
