The problem, Kingfish, is that people are NOT getting their packages earlier, in fact, they are arriving late.

I don't really have a problem with the USPS, and often ship things with them. They usually cost less,

I have a problem with being charged the rate for UPS, and then not getting the package delivered on time, because UPS is considering it "delivered" when it passes it off to the post office, and the post office may take two more days to actually deliver it.
