
Subject: Re: Phones and depression

Posted by gofar99 on Tue, 21 Jan 2014 22:04:50 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hi, I keep mine until they either will not do something I need done or they fail. Right now I have a S3. It does the job. Getting the latest and greatest new phone every year seems a bit excessive to me as the things they can do are limited by the apps and what the network you are on will allow. The newest ones are following the trend of PCs....bloated with features that very few will ever need.
