Excellent! Sounds like you'll get the most out of your Crown amp that way.

By the way, I'm a big fan of Crown amps too. I've always had a few Microtech amps around for high SPL use. They're kind of old-school these days, kind of large and heavy. But they're built like tanks and sound good too. They're arc-welders!

As for a suggestion for tube amps, let me mention these two options:

1. Audio Note Kit 1
2. OddWatt Audio Oddblock

There are plenty of other good tube amp kits out there, but those are my two favorites.
