Subject: Re: Alternatives to Martin King's spreadsheets Posted by CRISTIAN M on Fri, 18 Jul 2014 04:23:24 GMT View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I think I got your point, but then, how can I calculate those parameters if I don't have Martin King's spreadsheet? Are there alternatives for that? online calculators or commercial software?