Hi, We are all fine and dry (others not so lucky). Now we are looking at the new hurricane Polo. It looks like it will do what the first one 10 days ago did and brush the coast and cause more rain here to funnel up the mountain chains. BTW, it is still raining slightly now and they show about 70% chance for the next 3 days. So much for figuring that I was through with mowing the green things growing in the yard that pass for grass.
