That's a Crown D75 strapped to mono. When the control room is set up for 2 channel, the Crown powers NS10 near-fields. The changeover requires some manual recabling in the raceway behind the console. It is not a flip-switch change. However, Post Production and Music Recording classes do not run concurrently in a given semester. So it's not an issue. We have the newer C24 console now.

Sorry for the late reply.
