Moving right along! Good going!

Sorry for my late response. I've been slammed. Tons of kits in the queue, so sorry for my delay getting those out too. I'm running about 30 days behind. Order today, ship 30 days later. I prefer shipping within a week, but there are just too many orders these days.

As for the subs, most people run plate amps. I see you've gone that route also. Some folks use a MiniDSP, and some use one of the crossovers mentioned in various threads on this forum. But most use plate amps, which kill two birds with one stone: Amp and crossover.
