It's the same PCB, and many of the same components. So you can modify it, if you wish.

Thats good.

Also wondering, is it possible to bi-amp the 7pi's?
They seem a great candidate for using a ss amp for the bottom woofer, while using a set amp for the mid horn and CD horn.

Is this doable, or would it mangle the original crossover design and/or screw with the speakers sensitivity?

I did a search for this and rolled craps
