[quote title=Finn wrote on Fri, 27 May 2016 07:11there have been so many times in my car that I've heard a great song and I have no idea who it is by. [/quote]

The same happens to me, but by the time I realize I like the song, I pay attention to the verse. If any words are repeated, I Google it because that could be the title. Most of time it works.

I would like to get online radio, but I just haven't had the time to look into it or set it up.
