I can understand your situation as I listen to music more nowadays. New ones don't fascinate me as much, so I stick to older ones.
I understand what it means to work in a remote area. For how long will you be there? I hope you get to a place where you can catch a movie often.

All the same, I try to balance between the two. There's a certain feel to movies that you can never get by listening to music and vice versa.
