Subject: Re: Artist with a distinctive voice
Posted by PianoGrrl on Wed, 11 Jan 2017 09:57:11 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

If you mean distinctive as in easily identified rather than trained or good, Leonard Cohen. His voice, particularly in old age, was unmistakable. I've heard it called a unique blend of gin and cigarettes.