Subject: Recording a piano

I'm trying to record a demo piece from the piano, but it isn't working very well. If I position the mic where the piano music sounds the best, I've found it is picking up a faint click from the keys. I can't hear it, but it is obvious on the recording. Is the mic too sensitive, is it a piano problem, any suggestions are really, really, welcome as I am tearing my hair out.
