

---

Subject: Re: Best System Brand

Posted by bcharlton on Wed, 07 Jun 2017 08:29:58 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

gofar99 wrote on Tue, 06 June 2017 20:49Hi, You really need to listen to a system to see if you like the sound. Then compare the build quality ...plastic, metal, wood etc and how well it seems built. Next is cost. If it is cheap ...it probably will not be all that great. At a risk of offending some folk, BOSE is only so-so and often more costly than better made systems. What price range were you considering? It makes a big difference what is "best".

I agree with you gofar. After all is said and done, price is a big factor. There's a lot to consider when making these purchases and it first starts with listening to a particular system.

---