

---

Subject: Re: Classic Singers

Posted by johnnycamp5 on Sun, 10 Sep 2017 13:53:27 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

Leot55 wrote on Sun, 03 September 2017 23:00 I'll second The Temptations and Aretha Franklin. My mother used to play them on Sunday afternoons Good memories. Mariah Carey is about the only current singer that has their talent.

I also like Ella Fitzgerald and James Brown. Both seem to sing with their whole heart. I've never been a fan of Elvis Presley, even though many fans compare him to James Brown. Elvis always seemed fake to me.

Lol!

For my family and our acquaintances, there is no one performer whom is more real than Elvis.

Stage presence second to none, live performances were outstanding with brass band back up.

Horse for courses I suppose.

The OP's question was "who are your favorite classic singers?".

---