There's this one game called Jazz Smash and it is one of my favorites. It is not about making music or playing music exactly, but it is basically smashing objects to a rhythmic tune that is playing. So even though it is not playing an instrument directly, it is very musical and got an awesome beat to it. You unlock new things to smash as you progress, and there is a jazz tune and a rock tune. It's an app on Android, Google Play, and iOS.
