It's funny (but also super frustrating) how it's usually the most random songs that worm their way into your subconscious. It's rarely the music I listen to on a regular basis, you know? Out of curiosity, do you find yourself knowing the lyrics to those songs? I swear, I always seem to pull lyrics out of nowhere, even when they're songs I rarely ever listen to. Then again, maybe I'm just making them up on the spot and they're completely wrong.
