What earbuds do you recommend for working out? I think I must have oddly-shaped ears or something because mine always slip out of my ears at some point, even when I'm just walking at a casual pace. Has anyone else had this problem and found some good earbuds that stay in place? I could be talked into headphones as well, as long as they're not too clunky (then I get too hot) or noise-canceling (because I just don't think that's safe when you're exercising).
