Hi, I use DVDs and CDs to store music. When stuff is on the cloud it is really not in your control...it is in the control of the server and while generally safe, it has been known to have issues on occasion. A good alternative to the cloud which I also use is to store music on external USB drives. 1 TB drives are dirt cheap now and you can put a lot of files on one. Just copy the music to your player when wanted.
