The Oscars still need a host, but it looks like the Golden Globes are swimming along. What do you think of the hosts, Sandra Oh from Grey's Anatomy and Killing Eve and Andy Samberg from Brooklyn Nine-Nine? I prefer comedians myself, but I enjoy Sandra Oh as an actress.

Who do you think will win Best Drama? My money is on Black Panther. I thought the film would receive more nominations than it actually did which is disappointing. I saw A Star is Born and didn't like it, though I know most viewers loved the show and Lady Gaga's role in it. It received five nominations in all though Sam Elliot wasn't nominated for Best Supporting Actor which surprised me.

Do you have any Golden Globe predictions to make? What do you think about the nominations?
