Subject: Re: Why the sudden push towards streaming movies and music?
Posted by Rusty on Tue, 02 Jul 2019 13:28:08 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I think it's all about control of profit. The middleman chain is severed. Which doesn't translate into end user savings. You have to subscribe to their marketing platform. And, if a production is popular they can further profit by licensing their property in physical form. And why does popular music sound all the same? This might help explain.
https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=oVME_l4IwII
I'm with you musicluvr, the streaming experience is lost on me.