Since I'd seen this low budget wonder as a kid, It's been my reference bad movie to love. Kinda a noir cult classic though. Blast Of Silence. Follows a hit man, Baby Boy Frankie Bono preparing and scoping out his victim and eventual whack job. All with narration references to Frankie's troubled upbringing. I think it was written, directed and starred by Allen Baron, AKA, B. boy Frank Bono. Cheese, as it's best. Limburger that is.
