It might come down to the mic. Which headset mics works well for loud mouth-breathers and quiet whisperers? We're having a church play and the volunteers usually manage to figure things out, but this one has us stumped. We've tried making adjustments to the audio equipment to mitigate the issues, but none of us are producers or anything like that so we're mostly going by experience and Google. Any adjustment just seems to fix one of the problems while amplifying the other.
