Doesn't look to me like you went as off-topic as Rusty and me! So but while we're off topic, did you set your clocks back last night? You gonna go to LSAF next June? And to bring it back on-topic, have you ever thought of highlighting tubes with colored LEDs? I've seen some really attractive tube amps that highlighted their warm tube glow with colored LEDs. It might seem kind of cheesy, but it really looks great. It actually looks really tasteful and high-end.
