

---

Subject: Re: Refurbishing '60's or 70's Era Stereos
Posted by Barryso on Thu, 07 May 2020 12:51:38 GMT

View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

---

The gear from the 70's may or may not have sounded good but generally it was built pretty well. Some of those old receivers, mid fi they may be, were built like tanks.

I recall Harmon Kardon used to have different manufacturing for different component lines. Their cheaper line (the stuff I could afford) was built overseas. Their state of the art gear was made in the USA. That stuff was WAY beyond my means.

---