Lots of broad generalizations here. Don't assume everybodyis middle class, in the professions, in the business (ofaudio building for profit,) married, white etc. etc. or anythingelse maybe especially male. It's bad for the group and exclusionary. I got politically motivated because of Abu Ghraib and have beensince. While I always vote, I felt shamed by what I saw. So I take double offense when I see remarks on here aboutwhat we should do to those so and so's blah blah and blah.
