Subject: out of my way Flanders! I've got a class to teach! Posted by PakProtector on Sun, 16 Oct 2005 09:57:29 GMT View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Hey-Hey!!!,I am putting together a few classes on amplifier design. Starting with a linestage project and analysis. I plan to use Gunievere as the example and project...simple, high-performance and a small departure from the easiest, the VTV 6SN7 with its resistive loads.What are the points that I need to be sure of covering and which one(s) ought to be done at the beginning? I know I can get there, but I need some bang for the buck(or in this case: time spent in class).regards,Douglas
