Subject: Re: Songs you've misunderstood - lyrics or meaning behind them
Posted by Madison on Tue, 05 Jan 2021 22:42:00 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Rusty wrote on Sun, 03 January 2021 13:07Ya know Madison. I've got to admit that I like to bastardize some songs. Even ones I like. Like Heart's fine rocker, Barracuda. I never followed the lyrics particularly save for the punch line word of the title name. I'm prone to using after the, "Your gonna burn, burn, burn, burn, burn to the wick. Oooooh"..... Gonorrhea!
I think everyone does that one a time or two at least. It's just too easy. Plus it fits better than barracuda anyway. I was reading about the Wilson sisters the other day and it's sad that they had a falling out and never really patched things back up. I was pretty young in the 80s, but I was a big fan of those two.