Subject: Re: Do dogs like music?
Posted by Phonetic Ear on Tue, 17 Aug 2021 05:53:31 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

Dogs hear far better than humans, given that they can detect the quietest of sounds. It would be natural for them to react to whatever is playing, so it won't be enough to say that they love what they're hearing. They probably start liking certain music after associating it with something that makes them happy.