Yes sir it's a shame. Unfortunately for my view, there's too many connections that confirm what the heavy thinkers are saying about the erosion taking place. Time and neglect takes it's toll. We still have NASA, that I think is doing great engineering with unmanned exploration and science. The James Webb telescope getting ready to go. Stuff to be proud of the integrity we still have. Elon Musk, eccentric as he is, is a billionaire at least that develops and makes things.
