Hello,I am looking for one of the knobs that belong on an H.H. Scott Tube Type Amplifier. It is for the 99-C. It is also used on the other 99 Series of amps. I am looking for either the brushed aluminum knob with the set screw or the dark plastic push-on knob that fits the "D" shaft. Some of the dark plastic knobs have a gold center.I have seen both styles of knobs on these amplifiers. I would like to locate either style. These two styles of knobs are used on many other models of H.H. Scott amplifiers such as the 210, 99 series, and many more.Please email me for a pictures.
>THANKS FOR LOOKING. I appreciate any help anyone could give me.Steve
