Out of space, yes the midhorn driver and Wiring is fine, atm left speaker is running, low and high over the passive xover, midhorn wires directly to second Channel on amp and xovered through Minidsp shd.

Yeah would prob be a relatively simple job, but I'm completely clueless with crossovers, and I don't know what to look for especially since it looks like schematic of the xover is with a different layout than the pcb my crossover is made on.

I'll look into shipping during coming week.
