Subject: Re: Going Backwards
Posted by Wayne Parham on Mon, 07 Mar 2022 16:50:54 GMT
View Forum Message <> Reply to Message

I remember in the 1970s when people observed that spinning a record backward created unusual sounds that resembled words. Some artists even recorded a few minutes of voice and then dubbed it into the final mix backwards purely to capitalize on this little mini-craze. The one I remember best was in the intro of ELO's album "Face the Music," but I know there were others.

It's just a novelty thing. Just a goof.