This adventure has come to an end.

This a close up of the binding posts. In retrospect I should have used a speakon instead.

These feet made by hudson hi-fi do a good job decoupling them from the suspended wooden floor.

And the pi logo in all its glory

This is the first speaker I've ever built. Not bad for a first time I guess. Results aside to me the most valuable thing was to get some knowledge. 6 months ago I knew about nothing on how speakers are built or work. This is just invaluable.
