Wow! Blue is generally not my favorite for a car color, but that looks really tasteful. The dark mag wheels and all. I remember from h.s. days that those wheels were the standard bearer of having a cool lookin machine. I wonder if the movie Bullitt had an influence there.
You're going to have a lot of boomer age heads turning when you go showboating round town when it's all done.
Goodbye family coupe, hello scorching street rod.
