Thank you for your reply compact, im sure your subs are awesome, but im afraid that here in Europe stereo integrity drivers is yet another brand Thats hard and very expensive to get here... other good brands are possible ofcourse.

My cornerhorns has made me infatuated with horns, and if possible i would love trying bashorns, but only if it makes sence SQ wise.

Thank you for a comprehensive reply Wayne, always appreciated.

Do i understand you correctly, that faseshift when doing multisubs is a positive thing as Long as it is below crossover region?

Its not that i dont have good placement options for basshorns(to a certain extent) but foot print of my wanted placements just doesnt fit your pi12's footprint.

Wayne, could you explain in laymans terms how a truncated horn is different that a non truncated horn?

Best regards

Ben
