Hi, That is a good question and not clear from the schematic. But since there are two tubes per channel I would expect the voltage amp stage to use the low power portions of each tube and the inverter/driver to use the high power sections. According to my RCA book the low power section is pins 6,7,8 and the high power one is 1, 3 and 9. heaters are 4 and 5. I hope this helps. let us know.
