I haven't seen that one, Noodle. I'll give it a look.

I've been captivated by the new Netflix series, Poker Face. Natasha Lyonne is simply dazzling. Part of my fascination is that I'd like to have the same skill - being a human lie detector. Apparently there's some science behind it. Unfortunately, I'm horrible at lying and detecting lies as well. The series is worth a watch. The cinematography is shot beautifully, it's well cast, and the story is captivating.
